

More Condos Come to Santa Monica

Prices start in the $900,000s.

October 17, 2016

STEVEN SHARP

Los Angeles-based real estate firm Palisades has announced a new residential development in Santa Monica.

AIRE Santa Monica, located on 14th Street, the project consists of 19 luxury condominiums priced starting in the $900,000s. AIRE offers two- and three-bedroom floor plans ranging from 1,000 square feet to 2,100 square feet in size. Half of the units are arranged as single-story garden flats, while the remainder are designed as two-story townhouses.

An official website also advertises amenities including private patios, rooftop terraces, high quality finishes and smart appliances.

AIRE was designed by Los Angeles-based JFAK Architects to seamlessly blend indoor and outdoor space, giving a nod to the project's beach-centric location.

For more information, visit the project's official website.

- AIRE Santa Monica \(Official Website\)

Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)

+Rendering of AIRE Santa Monica (Image: Palisades)